S.O. 575.—In pursuance of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (14 of 1947), the Central Government hereby publishes the following award of the Labour Court, Delhi, in the matter of an application under section 33-A of the said Act, from Shri A. Ganpat Singh, an employee of the Bank of Rajasthan Limited.

BEFORE THE CENTRAL GOVT., LABOUR COURT, DELHI

PRESENT:

Shri E. Krishna Murti, Central Govt., Labour Court, Delhi.

29th January, 1962

Application U/S 33-A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947.

I.D. No. 301 of 1961

Shri A. Ganpat Singh (Chowkidar), The Bank of Rajasthan Ltd., Sojati-gate, Jodhpur, C/o All India Bank of Rajasthan Employees' Association, 320, Sardarpura, 11th Road, Jodhpur—Complainant.

Vs.

The Bank of Rajasthan Ltd., Central Office, Johari Bazar, Jaipur—Respondent.

In the matter of Complaint No. 156 of 1961, in Ref. No. 1 of 1960, pending before the National Industrial Tribunal (Bank Disputes), Bombay-1.

Shri Nand Lal Mathur—for the management.

Shri V. N. Sekhri—for the workman.

AWARD

This is a petition under Section 33-A of the Industrial Disputes Act.

2. The petitioner alleges, that the opposite party has contravened Section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, that the petitioner was appointed in the Bank of Rajasthan as Chowkidar, that he was confirmed as Chowkidar with effect from 12th March, 1958, that his duties were changed to those of a peon by virtue of the office order dated 13th September, 1961, and that changing these duties amounts to contravention of Section 33.

3. The contention on behalf of the bank is, that the bank has not contravened any of the provisions of Section 33, that it is true, that the petitioner was appointed as a Chowkidar, that he joined duty only from 12th June, 1957, that the bank has not changed his designation, that change of duties does not mean change of designation, that this application is not maintainable, that there is no alteration of the conditions of service to the prejudice of the workman, and that he is not entitled to any relief.

4. The issues, that arise for determination, are:—

- (1) Whether there is a contravention of Section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act?
- (2) Whether the petition, as brought, is maintainable under Section 33-A, of the Industrial Disputes Act?
- (3) Whether there is alteration of the conditions of service to the prejudice of the workman?
- (4) To what relief, if any, is the petitioner entitled?

Issues No. 1 and 2.

5. It is common ground, that the petitioner was appointed as Chowkidar of the bank. Ext. W/1, is a letter of confirmation dated 3rd March, 1958, and it is to the effect, that he was confirmed in service with effect from 12th March, 1958.

Ext. M/1, is the letter addressed to Shri Ganpat Singh by the manager of the bank. Ext. M/2, dated 9th September, 1961, is a copy of a letter by the manager of the Bank of Rajasthan, Jodhpur, addressed to the Central Office, stating, that the office needed peons, and that it was proposed that the duties of chowkidar be changed to those of a peon, that the branch was situated in the heart of the city, and that there was no need of a chowkidar. The contention on behalf of the workman now is, that there has been an alteration of the conditions of service to his prejudice during the pendency of a dispute before the National Tribunal, and that, therefore, there is a contravention of Section 33, and that it follows, that the petition, as brought, is maintainable. This contention is untenable. The complaint of the petitioner is, that there has been an alteration of the conditions of his service, because he was confirmed as a chowkidar, and he is now made to do the duties of a peon, and that his designation also was changed. What is contended before me is, that there has been an alteration of the conditions of his service, which were applicable to him immediately before the commencement of the proceedings before the National Tribunal. But it is clear that Section 33 has no application to the facts of this case. Section 33(1) cannot apply because the alteration of the conditions of service, that is now complained of, is not connected with the dispute before the National Tribunal. Neither can it be held, that Section 33(2) has been contravened because it is clear from the decision in Lord Krishna Textile Mills (1961, 1 LLJ 211), that a management is not bound to apply for approval of their action of altering the conditions of service of a workman. Section 33(3) has obviously no application when the petitioner is not a protected workman. In the circumstances, there is no contravention of Section 33. In the absence of contravention of Section 33, the petition under Section 33-A, is not maintainable, and this Labour Court has no jurisdiction to entertain the same.

Issue No. 3.

6. In view of my finding, as above, all questions relating to the merits of the dispute between the parties do not arise for determination, and are not decided herein.

Issue No. 4.

7. The petitioner is not entitled to any relief in this petition.

8. In the result, the petition is dismissed as not being maintainable. There will be no order as to costs.

9. An award is passed accordingly.
